

We must all beware the very real and understandable human tendency to ignore or subvert facts, and findings of science, that discomfort us for reasons of ideology, politics, religion, or personal taste.

-- William Brody, president of Johns Hopkins University

Tradition: Scientific Inquiry

Region: North America

